

This major series is intended to help teachers planning a site visit. Historical background is combined with a variety of possible study approaches, documentary sources, and photocopyable activity sheets for classroom and on-site work, together with practical information about the site.

Cleeve and Muchelney Abbeys

Sue Watling
Cleeve Abbey, Somerset is one of the best preserved Cistercian sites in the South West. Together with the remains of Benedictine Muchelney, the sites are representative of many other smallish monasteries, illustrating different but complementary aspects of monastic life.
Key Stages 2 and 3.
48 pages, A4, 1989.
ISBN 1-85074-238-3
Price: £3.95
Quote Code: XN 09167

Dover Castle

Jonathan Barnes and Andy Harmsworth
Dover Castle offers a unique range of study potential, containing within its bounds fine examples of public and military building spanning 2,000 years. The site, defined by an Iron Age hill-fort and graced by a Roman lighthouse and Saxon church, best displays the development of castle architecture in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries. However, it remained a garrison until the twentieth century and contains important examples of Georgian and Victorian military engineering.
Key Stages 2 and 3.
48 pages, A4, 1991.
ISBN 1-85074-320-7
Price: £3.95
Quote Code: XN 10557

Framlingham and Orford Castles

John Fairclough
These Suffolk castles, both with substantial remains are a visual basis for the study of the past and a starting point for activities extending across the curriculum. They can be studied as entities in themselves or used to illustrate a particular period, of the locality or of different types of fortification.

Key Stages 2 and 3; GCSE.
36 pages, A4, 1990.
ISBN 1-85074-261-8
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XN 09687

Goodrich Castle

Ailse Hancock
In a commanding position over the Wye Valley in the Welsh Marches, Goodrich exemplifies all the fascinating features of castles and castle life which most appeal to children, with its moat, towers, hall and dungeon. Activity sheets on Rebuilding, Attacking, Domestic Life and Cooking and Feasting could be used in the study of any castle.
Key Stages 2 and 3.
36 pages, A4, 1991.
ISBN 1-85074-310-X
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XN 10558

Helmsley Castle

Jane Hassid
This North Yorkshire castle offers diverse opportunities to study an ancient secular building, both as a medieval fortification and as a Tudor dwelling. Its evolution can be traced in the fabric of its walls and in documents written by its inhabitants. It illuminates complex military architecture and developing social organisations.

Key Stages 2 and 3.
36 pages, A4, 1991.
ISBN 1-85074-323-1
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XN 10476

Kenilworth Castle

Tim Copeland
Kenilworth Castle, Warwickshire, was owned by some of the most powerful individuals in English history. The site has much to offer teachers and children exploring the past, including a well-equipped Education Centre. The handbook focuses on the castle as fortress and palace, and the processes that caused its decay.
Key Stages 2 and 3.
36 pages, A4 size, 1990.
ISBN 1-85074-292-8
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XN 09689

Minster Lovell Hall

Pat Emery with Tony Hurley
Minster Lovell Hall, Oxfordshire, contains all the elements of a typical late medieval manor house, and the surrounding medieval village survives virtually intact.
Key Stages 2 and 3.
16 pages, A4, 1990.
ISBN 1-85074-290-1
Price: £1.95
Quote Code: XN 09688

North Leigh Roman Villa

Tony Hurley
North Leigh lies on the south east margin of the Cotswolds, and two centuries of archaeological study have shown it to have been one of the largest and wealthiest Roman villas in the area. It was in use for over three centuries and included luxury mosaics, centrally heated rooms and bath houses.
Key Stages 2 and 3.
16 pages, A4, 1991.
ISBN 1-85074-316-9
Price: £1.95
Quote Code: XN 10559

Old Sarum

Philippe Planel
The massive banks and ditches of an Iron Age hillfort surround the remains of a Norman castle and cathedral which were abandone in the thirteenth century. As an educational tool for exploring continuity and discontinuity of settlement over a long period the site has few rivals.

Key Stages 2 and 3.
36 pages, A4.
ISBN 1-85074-308-8
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XN 10560

Osborne House

Marilyn Tolhurst
Based on Queen Victoria's seaside home on the Isle of Wight, this book suggests a number of approaches including role play, looking at the house as an example of Victorian social life and seeing it as a contemporary conservation problem. Ideas for following up include recipes, instructions for an optical toy and pin-hole photography.
Key Stages 2 and 3.
64 pages, A4, 2nd edition, extensively revised, 1990.
ISBN 1-85074-289-8
Price: £3.95
Quote Code: XN 09168

Pevensey Castle

Dot Meades
This East Sussex castle offers a good opportunity to study defence over a long period of time. The medieval castle was built within the walls of a Roman fort. Building of the castle began in Norman times and additions have been at periods as recently as the Second World War.
Key Stages 2 and 3.
36 pages, A4, 1991.
ISBN 1-85074-309-6
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XN 10561

Rochester Castle

Tim Copeland
Rochester Castle, Kent, is one of the finest examples of a Norman castle in the country. Discovery of its design and purpose can involve learning skills such as observation, recording, deduction, measuring, estimating and language, which extend across the curriculum.
Key Stages 2 and 3; GCSE.
36 pages, A4, 1990.
ISBN 1-85074-217-0
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XN 09170

St Augustine's Abbey, Canterbury

Stephen Scoffham
St Augustine's, built 598 AD, is the oldest Anglo-Saxon abbey in England. The handbook includes nine trail sheets, ideas for data collection; extracts from original documents, a time chart and reconstruction drawings.
Key Stages 2 and 3.
48 pages, A4, 1988.
ISBN 1-85074-196-4
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XN 09171

St Catherine's Oratory

Elizabeth Newbery
Based on the site overlooking Blackgang Chine of the Isle of Wight, which was built in the early 14th century as a chapel-cum-lighthouse, the handbook also covers a history of lighthouses in general, and ideas to relate lighthouses to the English and Science curriculum.
Key Stages 2 and 3.
12 pages, A4, plus 2 activity sheets, 1987.
ISBN 1-85074-147-6
Price: £1.95
Quote Code: XN 09172

The Thames and its Buildings

Adrian Tinniswood
Marble Hill House, The Chapter House Westminster Abbey, the Jewel Tower, London Wall, Winchester Palace and Hadleigh Castle are all covered in this pack for classes studying the Thames. A photographic trail, a DIY guidebook and a landscape survey are just some of the lively ideas that together with primary sources and varied illustrations will provide a useful stimulus for planning work.
Key Stages 2 and 3.
36 pages, A4, 1990.
ISBN 1-85074-282-0
Price: £3.95
Quote Code: XN 09690

Tilbury Fort

Frankie Dale
Tilbury Fort is the best preserved and in many ways the finest surviving example of late seventeenth century military architecture in England. It offers a good introduction to a study of fortifications and its dramatic pentagonal design could stimulate a variety of cross-curricular activities.
Key Stages 2 and 3; GCSE.
36 pages, A4, 1989.
ISBN 1-85074-216-2

Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XN 09173

See also Posters >

Totnes Castle

Stewart Brown and Robin Clutterbuck
This handbook includes project themes such as invasion, the use of evidence and the building of the castle. There are plans of how to make a Norman motte and a set of cards for a role play activity 'Murder in the Castle'. It includes two interacting site trails for 'Normans' and 'Saxons' and an archaeological survey sheet.
Key Stages 2 and 3.
28 pages, A4, plus 3 activity booklets, 1988.
ISBN 1-85074-200-6
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XN 09397

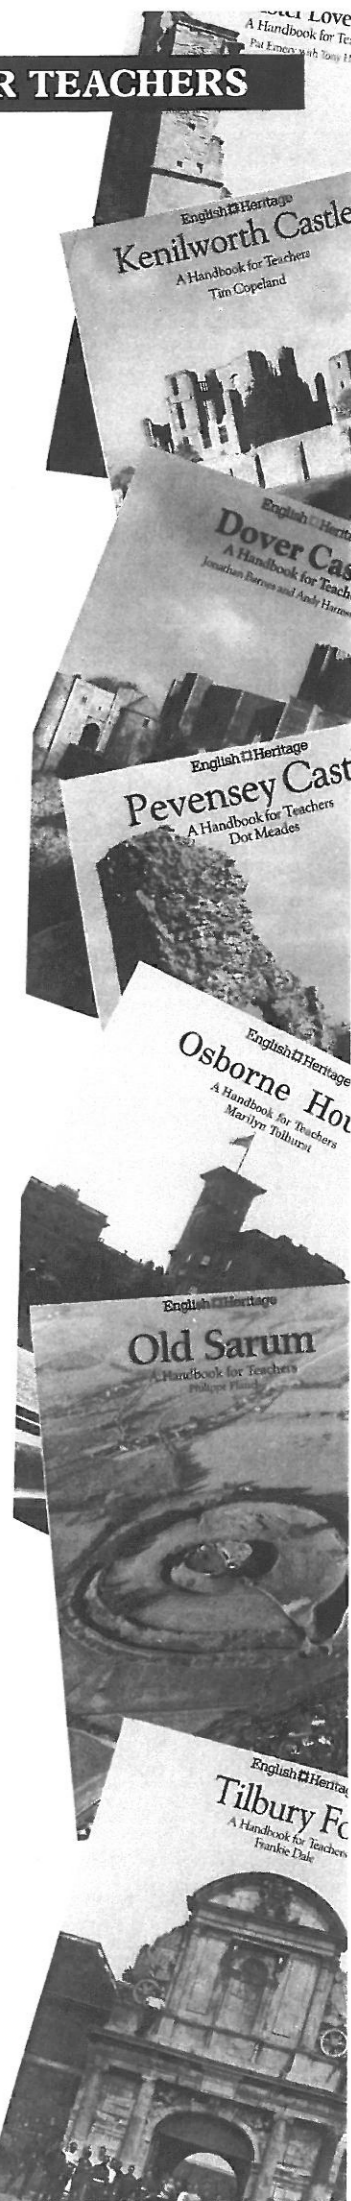

See also Family Discovery Packs >

Upnor Castle

Hariet Blanchard, Linda Edwards and Christine Lloyd
Upnor castle, still almost intact, is a sixteenth century fort extended in the seventeenth century and built to defend the naval dockyards at Chatham. After the embarrassment of the Dutch raid up the Medway in 1667 it was turned into a gunpowder store becoming the largest in England, even including the Tower of London.
Key Stages 2 and 3.
36 pages, A4, 1991.
ISBN 1-85074-287-1
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XN 10562

Yarmouth Castle

Elizabeth Newbery
Yarmouth Castle was built to defend the Isle of Wight following the French invasion of 1545. The handbook contains detailed information about 16th century methods of attack and defence. There are ideas for cross-curricular studies, a cut-out model; a survey sheet and an activity based on the theme of pirates.
Key Stages 2 and 3.
12 pages, A4, plus 3 activity sheets, 1987.
ISBN 1-85074-149-2
Price: £1.95
Quote Code: XN 09174

DISCOVERY PACKS

DISCOVERY PACKS

DISCOVERY PACKS

Written primarily for family groups, these packs would be a useful resource for teachers planning a site visit. Each contains two activity cards encouraging observational skills, and a wallchart with practical ideas to use in the classroom.

part in the battle and what it might have felt like; and to imagine life in the Abbey as either a novice monk or abbot. The wallchart shows how to make your own stained glass window or chainmail tunic and helmet.
Published 1990
ISBN 1-85074-267-7
Price: £1.95
Quote Code: XO 09691

Quote Code: XO 10563

◀ See also Handbooks For Teachers

Videos and Posters ▶

Rievaulx Abbey
Newbery and England

Rievaulx was the first major Cistercian monastery built in England. This pack looks at how the order was founded and the abbey built, looking at the physical evidence. The wallchart shows how to make decorative tiles, or your own quill and ink.
Published 1987.
ISBN 1-85074-171-1
Price: £1.95
Quote Code: XO 09176

◀ See also Videos ▶

Tintagel Castle
Julie Reed

The remains of this medieval castle are spectacularly located on the Cornish coast. The wallchart includes ideas for designing heraldry, a recipe and a cartoon story of King Arthur and the sword, associated with Tintagel.

Published 1991
ISBN 1-85074-322-3
Price: £1.95
Quote Code: XO 10564

Totnes Castle
Stewart Brown and Robin Clutterbuck

This Devon Castle is an excellent example for studying Norman motte and bailey defences. The activity cards form two trails about the castle and life as a Saxon or Norman during the conquest. The wallchart contains ideas for making chainmail and a heraldic shield.
Published 1989.
ISBN 1-85074-284-7
Price: £1.95
Quote Code: XO 09177

◀ See also Handbooks For Teachers

Audley End
Newbery and England

This palatial Jacobean house in Essex has considerable 18th century interior design by Robert Adam, traced on the activity cards. The wallchart has a do-it-yourself family tree.
Published 1989.
ISBN 1-85074-218-9
Price: £1.95
Quote Code: XO 09175

Battle Abbey and The Battle of Hastings
Gail Durbin, Liz Hollinshead, Ross Jellicoe and Peter Stone

This pack encourages children to imagine themselves as either Saxon or Norman soldiers taking

Kenilworth Castle
Gail Durbin, Liz Hollinshead, Ross Jellicoe and Peter Stone

The activities in this pack help children understand why changes were made to the castle in the present to conserve the buildings. The wallchart shows how to make your own Elizabethan ruff, a decorated archway or design a patterned border.
Published 1991.
ISBN 1-85074-294-4
Price: £1.95

NEW

NEW

EDUCATION ON SITE

EDUCATION ON SITE

These books aim to show how historical resources can be used as a basis of study in specific areas of work across many curriculum subjects. Each is packed with practical exercises and ideas to aid understanding for groups at different levels.

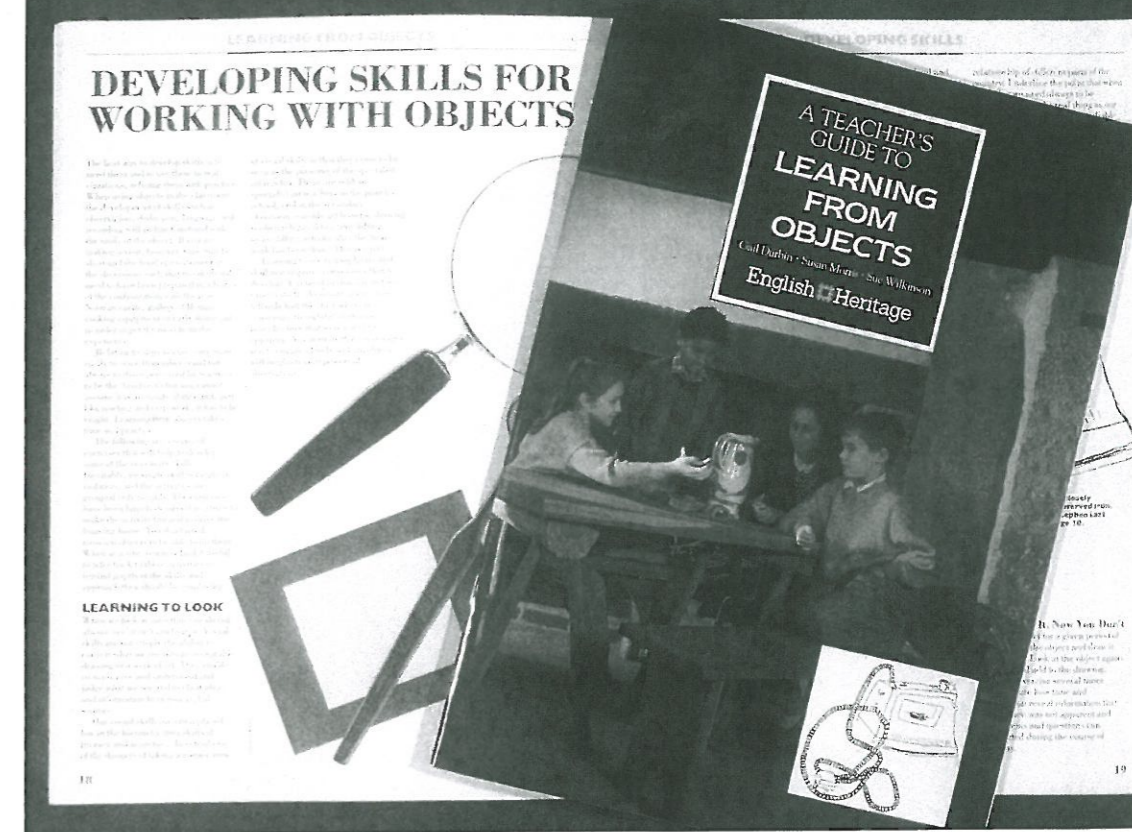

A Teachers Guide to Learning From Objects
Gail Durbin, Susan Morris and Sue Wilkinson.

This book is for teachers who want to encourage children to learn from physical things. It suggests a method of analysing objects and a range of classroom games to help develop the skills that are necessary for fieldwork at sites or museums.
Key Stages 1, 2 and 3; GCSE.
36 pages, A4, 1990.
ISBN 1-85074-259-6
Price: £3.95
Quote Code: XP 09692

◀ See also Videos ▶

A Teacher's Guide to Using Portraits
Susan Morris

Portraits are the gossip columns, newsflashes, party political broadcasts and family albums of the past. They are found in every country house and museum and this book aims to help teachers decode some of the messages they contain. The book contains ideas and practical exercises for groups that can be used from infant to examination level.

Key Stages 1, 2 and 3; GCSE.
48 pages, A4, 1989.
ISBN 1-85074-231-6
Price: £3.95
Quote Code: XP 09179

◀ See also Slide Packs ▶

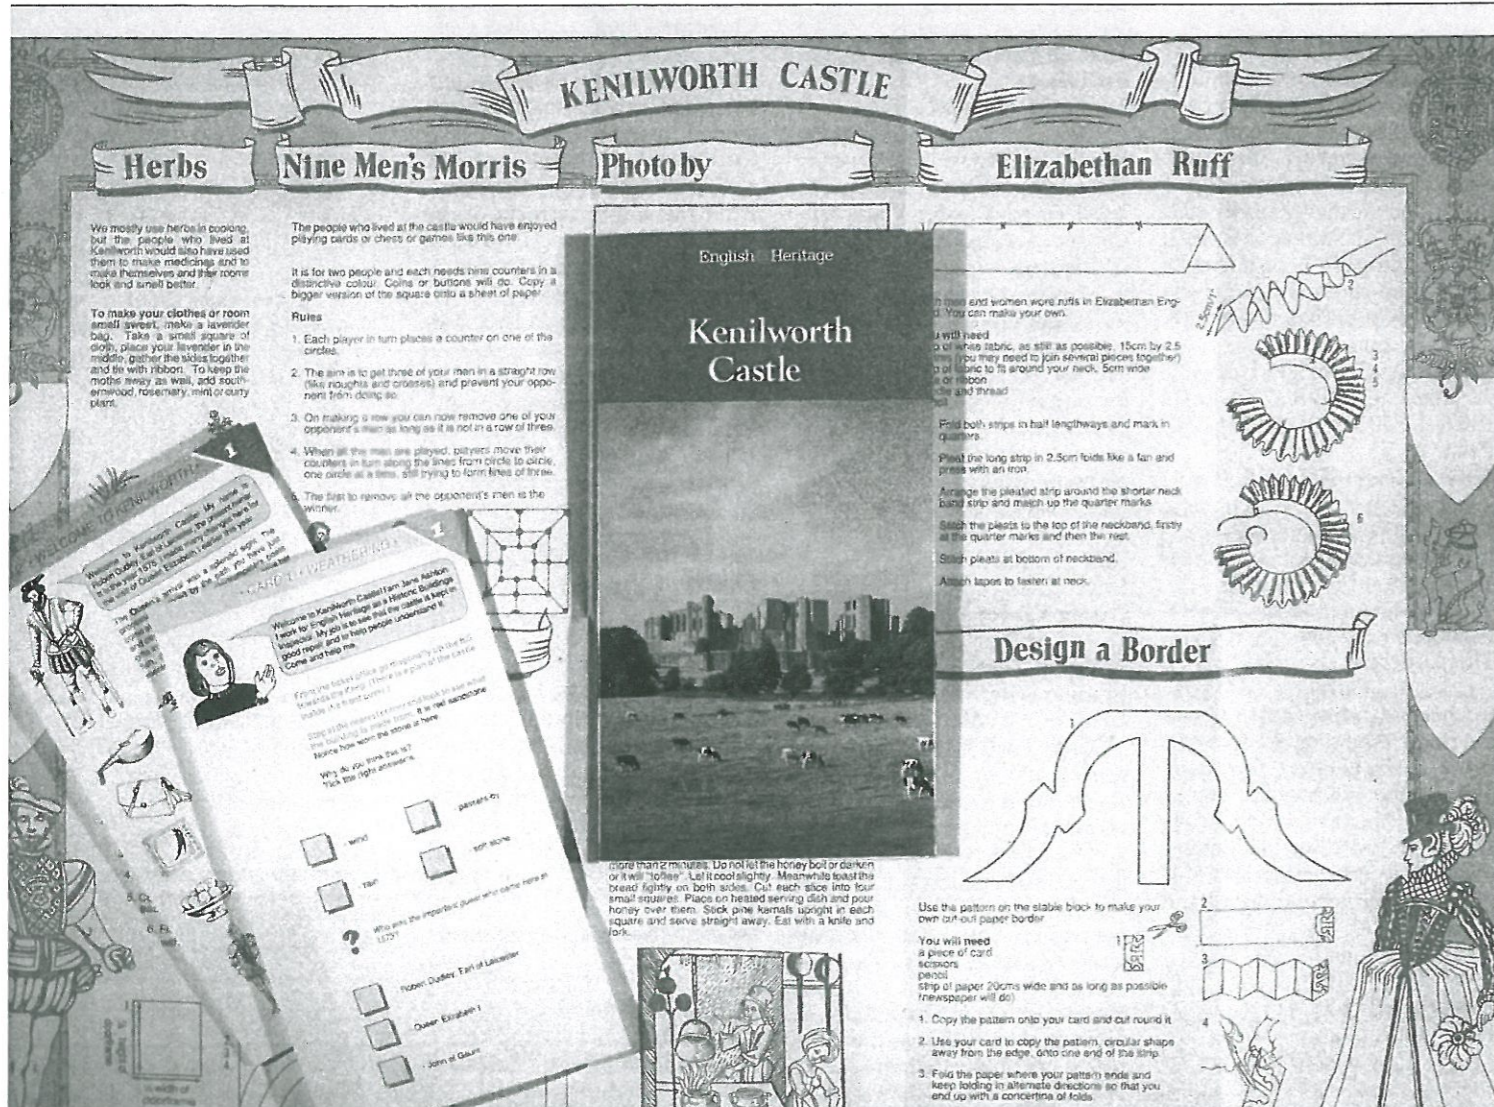

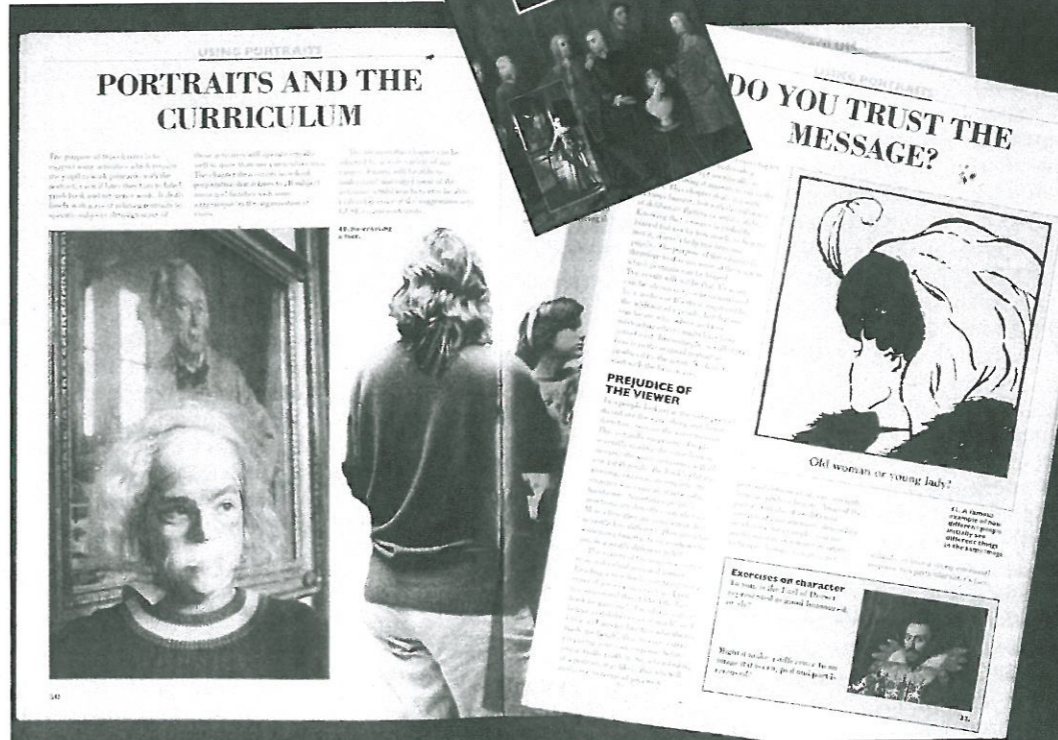

IN PREPARATION

Using English and the Historic Environment
Using Maths and the Historic Environment
Using Science and the Historic Environment
Using Geography and the Historic Environment
Using Castles and the Historic Environment
Using Abbeys and the Historic Environment
Using School Buildings and the Historic Environment
Look out for our Resources Update during the Autumn term for full details and a special offer.

Living History: reconstructing the past with children
John Fairclough and Patrick Redsell

This book on drama and role play projects details events at Heveningham Hall and Orford Castle, in Suffolk, and explains how schools might carry out their own projects. A useful resource list is also included.
Key Stages 2 and 3.
36 pages, A4, 1985.
ISBN 1-85074-073-9
Price: £1.95
Quote Code: XP 09178

◀ See also Videos ▶

GENERAL BOOKS

GENERAL BOOKS

GENERAL BOOKS

These books are a selection from the English Heritage Catalogue of Publications 1991 — see back page for details and how to get a free copy.

Abbeys of Yorkshire
Colin Platt

This booklet is the perfect introduction to a study of abbeys and the monks and nuns who lived in them. It has sections on each religious order, and looks at their differing ways of life, their buildings and the reasons for their dissolution. Highly illustrated with colour photographs and manuscripts and with a gazetteer of sites, this book is a bargain for any teacher.

40 pages, A4, 1988.
ISBN 1-85074-199-9
Price: £0.95

Quote Code: XQ 11147

Armada 1588
Alison Plowden

This booklet relates the dramatic events of 1588, beginning with the background to Elizabethan England, considering the Catholic threat, and the battle with the Spanish Armada which ensued. Including a section about life on board ship, and many colour illustrations, this is a useful resource for any study of the period.

24 pages, 230x210mm, 1988.
ISBN 1-85074-197-2
Price: £0.95

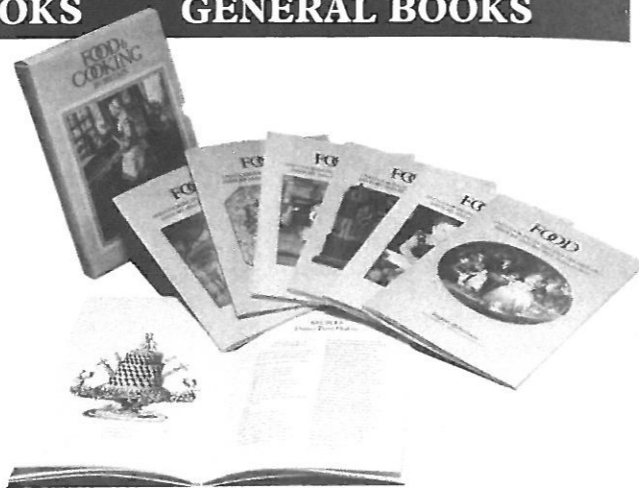

Quote Code: XQ 11148

The English Heritage/Batsford series

A major series bringing the past to life through the interpretation of the great historic monuments in which Britain is so rich, published in association with Batsford.

Abbeys and Priors
Glyn Coppack

Before the dissolution of the monasteries in 1536 there were more than 500 abbeys and priories in England. Although excavation over the last 100 years has greatly increased our understanding of this aspect of medieval society, this is the first general study to cover this extensive specialist research in a single volume. The author looks at the archaeological clues that reveal why many changes, both modest and substantial, occurred in the physical surroundings of monastic life.

The text is accompanied by over 100 maps, plans, reconstructions and photographs.

144 pages, 1990.
ISBN 0-7134-6309-4
Price: £14.95

Quote Code: XQ 11169

Avebury
Caroline Malone
144pp, 120 illus (10 in colour), 1989.

ISBN 0-7134-5960-3
Price: £12.95

Quote Code: XQ 11171

Church Archaeology
Warwick Rodwell
208pp, 91 illus, 1989.

ISBN 0-7134-6294-9
Price: £14.95

Quote Code: XQ 11173

Hadrian's Wall
Stephen Johnson
144 pp, 108 illus (11 in colour), 1989.

ISBN 0-7134-5958-1
Price: £12.95

Quote Code: XQ 11172

Wharram Percy
Deserted Medieval Village
Maurice Beresford and John Hurst

The explorations at Wharram Percy have transformed our knowledge of the history of the English village. This book describes the research project developed under the partnership of Maurice Beresford and John Hurst and reconstructs the long history of the village from prehistoric times to the present day.

144 pages, 1990.
ISBN 0-7134-6114-4
Price: £12.95

Quote Code: XQ 11170

Food and Cooking in Britain
Jane Renfrew, Maggie Black, Peter Brears and Jennifer Stead

A series of seven books containing information on food, cooking equipment, serving meals and etiquette, together with a collection of recipes converted for the modern kitchen.

Key Stages 2 and 3; GCSE.
44-52 pages, A5, 1985.
Price: £1.50 each.

The volumes are:

Prehistoric Britain
Food and Cooking
ISBN 1-85074-079-8
Quote Code: XQ 09181

Roman Food and Cooking
ISBN 1-85074-080-1
Quote Code: XQ 09182

Medieval Food and Cooking
ISBN 1-85074-081-X
Quote Code: XQ 09183

16th century
Food and Cooking
ISBN 1-85074-082-8
Quote Code: XQ 09184

17th century
Food and Cooking
ISBN 1-85074-083-6
Quote Code: XQ 09185

18th century
Food and Cooking
ISBN 1-85074-084-4
Quote Code: XQ 09186

19th century
Food and Cooking
ISBN 1-85074-085-2
Quote Code: XQ 09187

English Heritage from the air.

In this book England's most historically significant sites are illustrated in 100 full colour photographs. These reveal much about the buildings and their geographical settings, such as field monuments and ruins whose original internal arrangements can best be perceived from the air. The photographs are accompanied by an explanatory text describing the significance of these landmarks and putting them into a clear historical perspective.

GENERAL BOOKS

GENERAL BOOKS

GENERAL BOOKS

GCSE; A Level.
192 pages, 1990.
Price: £11.95

Quote Code: XQ 11168

From Roman Viroconium to Medieval Wroxeter
edited by Philip Barker

Wroxeter Roman City, near Shrewsbury in Shropshire, is one of the most important remnants of the Roman period in Britain. Originally a legionary fort, the town established on the same site was revived by the Emperor Hadrian when he visited the province in AD 122.

In this book Philip Barker who has directed excavations on the basilica site since 1966, has drawn together a number of articles about the development of the city. Teachers will find the book interesting and useful for educational visits to the site.

Published by West Mercian Archaeological Consultants Ltd, 1990, 13 pages text with 120 pages of figure illustration, A4 ringbound.
ISBN 0-9516274-14
Price: £4.50

Quote Code: XQ 10669

Life on a Royal Estate:
a document pack
for Osborne House
Marilyn Tolhurst

This document pack will help teachers prepare for and follow up a visit but it is also useful for teachers wanting to introduce a variety of historical sources. Archive photographs, old maps, and plans, an invoice for toys, an extract from the 1861 census, accounts from the royal nurseries, letters and diaries of Queen Victoria and her family are all included. Where the original documents were handwritten a transcription is provided and there is a booklet of ideas for classroom use.

Key Stages 2 and 3; GCSE.
8 page book, A4, plus 39 sheets of facsimiles and transcriptions, 1986.
ISBN 1-85074-126-3
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XN 09169

See also Handbooks For Teachers

New Shopping in Historic Towns
The Chesterfield story
Tony Aldous

All towns face the challenge of adapting to modern needs whilst still preserving their historic identity.

The proposals for Chesterfield's redevelopment were designed to give it the image of a modern town, demolishing a large portion of the old centre in the process; wise counsel and circumstance, however, led to a turnaround in thinking. This volume charts the progress of this dramatic reversal, and describes how a new conservation approach was put into practice. Tony Aldous' text provides a highly readable account of the Chesterfield story, and is generously illustrated by photographs, sketches, and architects' plans.

93 pages, 1990.
ISBN 1-85074-298-7
Price: £15.00
Quote Code: XQ 11167

Planning and Conservation: a case-study of Maiden Castle
Patrick Lavery and Chris Cooper

This booklet forms one of the units in the Geography 16-19 Project but it could feature in many other courses for the same age range. Using Maiden Castle, in Dorset, as a focus it deals with the pressures and conflicting interests which inevitably arise from increased tourism and how these can be minimised by careful planning. Throughout there are exercises involving the students in group decision-making and individual role play.

GCSE; A Level.
28 pages, card covers, A4 size, 1988.
ISBN 1-582-17356-6
Price: £3.95
Published by Longman
Quote Code: XQ 09188

See also Videos

Ration Book Recipes
Some Food Facts 1939-1954
Gill Corbishley

The demands and restrictions of rationing in the 'austerity years' during and after the Second World War are still vivid memories for many people. This book is a summary of the facts about food and rationing, with noteworthy recipes and many illustrations from contemporary sources. There is a special section for teachers, presenting ideas for classroom projects and experiments together with suggestions for further reading.

Key Stages 2 and 3; GCSE.
36 pages, A4, 1990.
ISBN 1-85074-288-X
Price: £3.95
Quote Code: XQ 09693

Revealing Lost Villages
Wharram Percy
Malcolm Atkin and Ken Tompkins

A guide to this famous deserted medieval village in North Yorkshire outlining the development of the site from prehistoric times to its desertion in the 15th century and concentrating on the types of evidence used to reveal its history.

32 pages, card covers, landscape size, 8 1/4" x 7 1/2", 1986.
ISBN 1-85074-121-2
Price: £1.50
Quote Code: XQ 09189