This major series is intended to help teachers plan their site visit. Historical background is combined with a variety of possible study approaches, documentary sources, and reproducible activity sheets for classroom and on-site work, together with practical information about the site.

Appuldurcombe House
Elizabeth Newbery
Based on the now ruined 18th century house near Wroxall on the Isle of Wight, the pack attempts to recreate a site like where it was first built. The book is also packed with ideas for paths to look for the remains of Capability Brown's landscape gardens and animal activity based on trees.

Key Stages 2 and 3.
16 pages, A4, plus 2 trails and a cut-out, 1987
ISBN 1-85074-148-4
Price: £19.5
Quote Code: XX 09164

See also videos ▲

Cleve and Muchelney Abbess
Sue Watling
Cleve Abbey, Somerset is one of the best preserved Cistercian sites in the South West. Together with the remains of Benedictine Muchelney, the sites are representative of many other small monasteries, illustrating different but complementary aspects of monastic life.

Key Stages 2 and 3.
ISBN 1-85074-238-3
Price: £13.5
Quote Code: XX 09167

See also videos ▲

Dover Castle
Jonathan Barnes and Andy Hunsworth
Dover Castle offers a unique archaeological potential, containing within its boundaries fine examples of public and military building spanning 2,000 years. The site, defined by an Iron Age hillfort and长大了 by a Roman lighthouse and Saxon church, best displays the development of castle architecture in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries. However, it remained a garrison until the twentieth century and contains important examples of Cypriot and Victorian military engineering.

Key Stages 2 and 3.
ISBN 1-85074-310-X
Price: £25.9
Quote Code: XX 09158

See also videos ▲

Helsmy Castle
Jane Hamid
This North Yorkshire castle offers diverse opportunities to study an ancient secular building, both as a medieval fortification and as a Tudor dwelling. Its evolution can be traced in the fabric of its walls and in documents written by its inhabitants. It illuminates complex military architecture and developing social organisations.

Key Stages 2 and 3.
ISBN 1-85074-323-1
Price: £19.5
Quote Code: XX 09161

See also videos and posters ▲

Framlingham and Orford Castles
John Fairclough
These Suffolk castles, both with substantial remains are a visual basis for the study of the past and a starting point for activities extending across the curriculum. They can be studied as entities in themselves or used to illustrate a particular period, of the locality or of different types of fortification.

Key Stages 2 and 3; GCSE.
ISBN 1-85074-268-3
Price: £128
Quote Code: XX 09169

See also videos ▲

Kenilworth Castle
Tim Copeland
Kenilworth Castle, Warwickshire, was owned by some of the most influential individuals in English history. The site has many buildings and artefacts from each period as well as purposes including role play, looking at the house as an example of Victorian social life and seeing it as a contemporary country house. Ideas for following up include recipes, instructions for an optical toy and pinhole photography.

Key Stages 2 and 3.
ISBN 1-85074-289-8
Price: £3.95
Quote Code: XX 09168

See also videos and posters ▲

Minster Lovell Hall
Pat Emery with Tony Hurley
Minster Lovell Hall, Oxfordshire, contains all the elements of a typical late medieval manor house and the surrounding medieval village survives virtually intact. The hall is built in two stages and 3.
ISBN 1-85074-290-1
Price: £12.9
Quote Code: XX 09166

See also videos ▲

North Leigh
Roman Villa
Pat Emery
North Leigh lies on the south east margin of the Cotswolds, and two centuries of archaeological study have shown it to have been one of the largest and wealthiest Roman villas in the area. It was in use for over three centuries and included luxury mosaics, central heated rooms and bath houses.

Key Stages 2 and 3.
ISBN 1-85074-316-9
Price: £3.95
Quote Code: XX 09157

See also videos and posters ▲

Old Sarum
Philippe Planol
The massive banks and ditches of an Iron Age hillfort surround the remains of a Norman castle and cathedral which were abandon-

Key Stages 2 and 3.
ISBN 1-85074-217-0
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XX 09170

See also videos and posters ▲

Penveas Castle
Don Meades
This East Sussex castle offers a good opportunity to study defence over a long period of time. The Napoleonic era castle was built within the walls of a Roman fort. Buildings of the castle began in Norman times and attacks had been at periods as recent as pages 4, A4, War World.

Key Stages 2 and 3.
ISBN 1-85074-304-8
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XX 09161

See also videos and posters ▲

Rochester Castle
Tim Copeland
Rochester Castle, Kent, is one of the finest examples of a Norman castle in the country. The design of its structure and purpose is covered in the course of the book. It offers a good introduction to a study of fortifications and its diagrammatic reconstruction displays the variety of cross-curricular activities.

Key Stages 2 and 3; GCSE.
ISBN 1-85074-216-2
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XX 09174

See also videos and posters ▲

St Augustine's Abbey,
Canterbury
Stephen Scottsmith
St Augustine's, built 598 AD, is the oldest Anglo-Saxon abbey in England. The handbook includes nine trail sheets, ideas for data collection, extracts from original documents, a time chart and reconstruction drawings.

Key Stages 2 and 3.
ISBN 1-85074-196-4
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XX 09171

St Catherine's Oratory
Edward Hulbert
Based on the site overlooking the Bicladg on the Isle of Wight, which was built in the early 14^th century as a chapel-lighthouse, the handbook also covers a history of lighthouses in general, and ideas to relate lighthouses to the English and Science curriculum.

Key Stages 2 and 3.
ISBN 1-85074-147-6
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XX 09172

The Thames and its Buildings
Adrian Timmis
Marble Hill House, The Chaffer House Westmead Abbey, the Abbey Gatehouse, Winchelsea Palace and Hadleigh Castle are all covered in this pack for classes studying the Thames. A photographic trail, a DIY guidebook and a last survey are just some of the lively ideas that together with primary sources and varied illustrations will provide a useful stimulus for planning work.

Key Stages 2 and 3.
ISBN 1-85074-283-0
Price: £3.95
Quote Code: XX 09160

Tilbury Fort
Franke Dale
Tilbury Fort is the best preserved of the three surviving examples of late 17th century military engineering in England. It offers a good introduction to a study of fortifications and its diagrammatic reconstruction displays the variety of cross-curricular activities.

Key Stages 2 and 3; GCSE.
ISBN 1-85074-216-2
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XX 09174

See also Family Discovery Packs ▲

Upnor Castle
Harriet Blanchard, Linda Edwards and Christine Lloyd
Upnor castle, still almost intact, is a sixteenth century fort extended in the seventeenth century and built to defend the naval dockyards at Chatham. After the embellishment of the Dutch raid up the Medway in 1667 it was turned into a gunpowder store becoming the largest in England, even including the Tower.

Key Stages 2 and 3.
ISBN 1-85074-287-1
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XX 10562

Yarmouth Castle
Elizabeth Newbery
Yarmouth Castle was built to defend the island of Wight against the French invasion of 1545. The handbook contains detailed information about 16th century methods of attack and defence. There are ideas for cross-curricular work using a computer model; a survey sheet and an activity based on the theme of pirates.

Key Stages 2 and 3.
ISBN 1-85074-149-2
Price: £3.95
Quote Code: XX 09174

See also Family Discovery Packs ▲
DISCOVERY PACKS

Audley End
Newbury and England

This palatial Jacobean house in Essex has considerable 17th century interior design by Robert Adam, traced on the activity cards. The wallchart has a do-it-yourself family tree.
Published 1989.
ISBN 1-85074-218-9
Price £1.95
Quote Code: XO 09175

Battle Abbey and The Battle of Hastings
Gail Durbin, Liz Hollinshed, Ross Jellicoe and Peter Stone

This pack encourages children to imagine themselves as either Saxons or Norman soldiers taking part in the battle and what it might have felt like; and to imagine life in the Abbey as either a novice monk or abbot. The wallchart shows how to make your own stained glass window or chainmail tunic and helmet.
Published 1990
ISBN 1-85074-267-7
Price: £1.95
Quote Code: XO 09691

Kenilworth Castle
Gail Durbin, Liz Hollinshed, Ross Jellicoe and Peter Stone

The activities in this pack help children understand why changes were made to the castle in the past, and might be needed in the present to preserve the buildings. The wallchart shows how to make your own Elizabethan ruff, a decorated archway or design a patterned border.
Published 1991
ISBN 1-85074-294-4
Price: £1.95

Tintagel Castle
Jude Reed

The remains of this mediaeval castle are spectacularly located on the Cornish coast. The wallchart includes ideas for designing heraldry, a recipe and a cartoon story of King Arthur and the sword, associated with Tintagel.
Published 1991
ISBN 1-85074-322-3
Price: £1.95
Quote Code: XO 10564

Rievaulx Abbey
Newbury and England

Rievaulx was the first major Cistercian monastery built in England. This pack looks at how the order was founded and the abbey built, looking at the physical evidence. The wallchart shows how to make decorative tiles, or your own quill and ink.
Published 1987.
ISBN 1-85074-171-1
Price: £1.95
Quote Code: XO 09176

Tateae Castle
Stewart Brown and Robin Clutterbuck

This Devon Castle is an excellent example for studying Norman motte and bailey defences. The activity cards form two trails about the castle and life as a Saxon or Norman during the conquest. The wallchart contains ideas for making chainmail and a heraldic shield.
Published 1989.
ISBN 1-85074-284-7
Price: £1.95
Quote Code: XO 09177

EDUCATION ON SITE

These books aim to show how historical resources can be used as a basis of study in specific areas of work across many curriculum subject areas. Each is packed with practical exercises and ideas to aid understanding for groups at different levels.

A Teacher's Guide to Learning From Objects
Gail Durbin, Susan Morris and Sue Wilkinson

This book is for teachers who want to encourage children to learn from physical things. It suggests a method of analysing objects and a range of classroom games to help develop the skills that are necessary for fieldwork at sites or museums.
Key Stages 1, 2 and 3; GCSE. 36 pages. A4, 1990.
ISBN 1-85074-239-6
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XP 09178

A Teacher's Guide to Using Portraits
Susan Morris

Portraits are the gossip columns, newswires, party political broadcasts and family albums of the past. They are found in every country house and museum and this book aims to help teachers decode some of the messages they contain. The book contains ideas and practical exercises for groups that can be used from infant to examination level.
Key Stages 1, 2 and 3; GCSE. 48 pages. A4, 1989.
ISBN 1-85074-231-6
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XP 09179

IN PREPARATION

Using English and the Historic Environment
Using Maths and the Historic Environment
Using Science and the Historic Environment
Using Geography and the Historic Environment
Using Castles and the Historic Environment
Using Abbeys and the Historic Environment
Using School Buildings and the Historic Environment
Look out for our Resources Update during the Autumn term for full details and a special offer.

Living History: reconstructing the past with children
John Fairclough and Patrick Redell

This book on drama and role play projects, details events at Heveringham Hall and Oxford Castle, in Suffolk, and explains how schools might carry out their own projects. A useful resource list is also included.
Key Stages 2 and 3; 36 pages. A4, 1995.
ISBN 1-85074-097-9
Price: £2.95
Quote Code: XP 09178

See also Handbooks
For Teachers