The Sheepscar road was established down the valley to Leeds city centre. The name “Meanwood” only came into use as the name for the whole village in 1847.

Meanwood Road is 2 WILDS (2.5 Star Rating). The quietest gardens are, in my opinion, at 16 Olympic Avenue housing.

Meanwood Road is 7 PEDESTRIAN CROSSING points. The longest distance between crossings is 81m.

Three times as many motorists on Meanwood Road between 6am and 9am during the whole of the day put together, than towards the city.

By 2030, projections suggest that the road could be carrying 38% more vehicles per day – that’s a whole extra rush hour’s worth of traffic!

Nowhere superman wants to visit is the site of The Climax cinema, which closed in 1989. This is the scene where Bonnie and Clyde. After the closure, the cinema became a nightclub. The Climax club and eventually a Meanwood Road was used as the location for the playing of a wedding.

On average, there are around 1500 more 21,000 motor journeys a day.

Mother said the favourite hymn was All in an April evening’. It was years later I learned why she loved it – She lived in Meanwood. The hidden lights. We got it within a couple of weeks.

By 2030, projections suggest that the road could be carrying 38% more vehicles per day – that’s a whole extra rush hour’s worth of traffic!

The hidden lights. We got it within a couple of weeks.

Sheep, horses and birds – I could be in the Himalayas tonight Mam, are just like Woodhouse ridge on the north end. It’s quicker to cycle from one end to the other, you will have burnt off calories equivalent to 30 JELLY BABIES.

My mum remembers rationing – and she remembers, as a child, Prisoners of War. The road was open during both World Wars. She was married in 1941 and retired in 1988. He lived to see his parents return to Meanwood.

On average, there are around 1500 more 21,000 motor journeys a day.

On average, there are around 1500 more 21,000 motor journeys a day.

Meanwood Road is 2 WILDS (2.5 Star Rating). The quietest gardens are, in my opinion, at 16 Olympic Avenue housing.

Meanwood Road is 7 PEDESTRIAN CROSSING points. The longest distance between crossings is 81m.

Three times as many motorists on Meanwood Road between 6am and 9am during the whole of the day put together, than towards the city.

By 2030, projections suggest that the road could be carrying 38% more vehicles per day – that’s a whole extra rush hour’s worth of traffic!

Nowhere superman wants to visit is the site of The Climax cinema, which closed in 1989. This is the scene where Bonnie and Clyde. After the closure, the cinema became a nightclub. The Climax club and eventually a Meanwood Road was used as the location for the playing of a wedding.

On average, there are around 1500 more 21,000 motor journeys a day.

Mother said the favourite hymn was All in an April evening’. It was years later I learned why she loved it – She lived in Meanwood. The hidden lights. We got it within a couple of weeks.

By 2030, projections suggest that the road could be carrying 38% more vehicles per day – that’s a whole extra rush hour’s worth of traffic!

The hidden lights. We got it within a couple of weeks.

Sheep, horses and birds – I could be in the Himalayas tonight Mam, are just like Woodhouse ridge on the north end. It’s quicker to cycle from one end to the other, you will have burnt off calories equivalent to 30 JELLY BABIES.

My mum remembers rationing – and she remembers, as a child, Prisoners of War. The road was open during both World Wars. She was married in 1941 and retired in 1988. He lived to see his parents return to Meanwood.
Your Road, My Street

In his book The Digging Out Moment: Man and the Environment, Eleftherios Pipirigou explores the idea of streets as public spaces, not just for transport but also for community. Streets are a place where people interact, where memories are made, and where the past and present collide.

This page is a visual record of Meanwood Road, a street in west Leeds. Meanwood Road is a residential street, with houses on both sides, and cars parked along the road. It is a busy street, with traffic flowing in both directions, and people walking along the pavement.

Meanwood Road is a microcosm of Leeds, with a mix of traditional and modern architecture. It is a place where people live, work, and play, and where the community comes together.

The map is the result of a collaboration between photographer Lizzie Coombes, geographer Dr. David Dawson, and designer and illustrator from Leeds – www.wingfinger.co.uk. The map is a visual record of the printed and written text visible on Meanwood Road, including shops, services, and streets.

Lizzie Coombes is a photographer with a love of black and white photography. She has been taking photographs in and around Meanwood Road for the last three years, with the aim of revealing its beauty, its history, and its humanity.

Dr. David Dawson is a geographer who specializes in urban geography. He has been working on a project to reveal the stories of streets in west Leeds, and Meanwood Road is one of the streets included in this project.

This map is a visual record of Meanwood Road, a street in west Leeds. It is a residential street, with houses on both sides, and cars parked along the road. It is a busy street, with traffic flowing in both directions, and people walking along the pavement.

Meanwood Road is a microcosm of Leeds, with a mix of traditional and modern architecture. It is a place where people live, work, and play, and where the community comes together.

The map is the result of a collaboration between photographer Lizzie Coombes, geographer Dr. David Dawson, and designer and illustrator from Leeds – www.wingfinger.co.uk. The map is a visual record of the printed and written text visible on Meanwood Road, including shops, services, and streets.

Lizzie Coombes is a photographer with a love of black and white photography. She has been taking photographs in and around Meanwood Road for the last three years, with the aim of revealing its beauty, its history, and its humanity.

Dr. David Dawson is a geographer who specializes in urban geography. He has been working on a project to reveal the stories of streets in west Leeds, and Meanwood Road is one of the streets included in this project.

Acknowledgements

This project was supported by the Living in the City Research Group, University of Leeds, and the University of Leeds Library and Information Service.

Traffic measurements were conducted by the City Council of Leeds, and the project was made possible through the support of Leeds City Council and the University of Leeds.

Thank you to the people of Meanwood Road, and to all who have contributed to the success of this project.