

YOUNG HEALTHY VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

We are looking for healthy young volunteers for a medical research study who are:

- Aged 18-30
- Consider themselves in good health
- Non-smoker (including on any occasions in past year)
- Not currently using e-cigarettes
- No regular medications (exceptions for contraception, skin creams and certain others)

This is an innovative study into lung health and immunity.

Participants will visit the RVI or Freeman hospital on 4 consecutive days. The first three will be brief visits involving screening, blood taking and the inhalation of a medication or placebo. The fourth visit involves a camera examination of your lungs called a bronchoscopy, for which you would spend a few hours in the hospital.

The aim of the study is for all participants to return after 1-3 months to repeat the tests.

Participants will be paid a fee to compensate for time and inconvenience. A further payment will be given after the repeat tests.
